First with the week's HOTTEST headlines...

Kat's CRASH catastrophe!

SHE'S LEFT UNCONSCIOUS
AFTER HITTING AN ELDERLY MAN WITH HER MOTORBIKE...

EASTENDERS | BBC1 MONDAY

Kat crashes – and an old man is left looking worse for wear!

Kat is responsible for a disastrous road smash in Albert Square this week, as she careers her motorbike into an elderly gentleman – leaving him lying in a crumpled heap and Kat herself unconscious!

The calamitous collision occurs after Kat resumes her challenge of trying to learn 'the Knowledge', so that she can memorise the roads of London and begin a new job of driving her dad's old cab. Feeling the pressure of committing so much information to memory, Kat gets on her moped and visits Charlie's former cabbie tea hut, hoping to be struck by inspiration. However, she ultimately ends up striking a pedestrian instead...

“Tony and Kat go to one of Charlie’s former haunts...”

“While at the tea hut, Kat encounters an ex-cabbie, Tony,” explains our Walford informant. “After she initially gets off on the wrong foot with Tony, he realises that Kat’s dad is Charlie Slater, and is thrilled to meet the daughter of his late chum! Delighted to have found something in common, the pair head off to reminisce over old times at one of Charlie’s former haunts. But that’s when the day takes a wrong turn...”

At the pub, Kat and Tony run into another of Charlie’s ex-pals, Maurice. And although Kat gets a bad vibe from Maurice, she’s not prepared for what happens next. After Tony heads off, she’s left alone with Maurice – and that’s when he sends her reeling with a revelation about her father’s past.

Maurice’s bombshell prompts Kat to make a hasty exit – and with her mind distracted by his chilling words, she takes a corner far too sharply in Albert Square, resulting in her crashing into an old man!

► FROM PREVIOUS PAGE

Despite hitting the old man, it's Kat who comes off worst after the crash, being knocked off her bike and sent flying. She's out cold for a few moments, but fortunately regains consciousness a little while later.

"Kat is dazed, though when she comes round, she soon realises that she's hit somebody, causing her to panic," reveals our source. "She hops on her bike, and drives back to No 31, without even exchanging details!"

Once she's home safely, Hayley realises that something is up with her cousin, and demands to know what it is that's got her so rattled. However, Kat brushes off the whole incident as a minor scrape and storms off, leaving Hayley feeling equally bemused and concerned.

Later on, Stacey and Hayley come to discover Kat drinking alone at E20, and the two women try to convince their distressed relative to come home. Nevertheless, Kat isn't in the mood to listen to what they have to say...

As usual, Kat tries to seek solace at the bottom of a bottle strikes a chord with Kat, though, because when she returns home later, she breaks down in tears. Just what is it that's playing on her mind so much?"

Whatever it is, Kat is still in a dark place a couple of days later, as she turns up in the Vic steaming drunk, and causes a scene in front of the locals. After Stacey and Hayley exchange words about Kat's unruly behaviour, is there anything her family can do to help?

Tom Spilsbury

"Let's be honest, when is Kat ever in the mood to listen?" chuckles our mole. "There are certain laws of nature that can't be broken! And as sure as day follows night, Stacey lashes out at Kat with a reality check, before leaving her to it. Something Stacey says clearly

Birthday surprise!

Guess who gatecrashes Hayley's celebration?

Hayley has a birthday party this week – despite the fact that she'd rather her family just ignored it!

While Kat has her own troubles, Hayley is struggling with bringing up her baby daughter. So despite all the tensions at No 31, Jean tries to lighten the mood. But will she regret it?

"Hayley doesn't react well to the card that Jean presents her with, but the older woman isn't deterred," says our sneak. "She arranges a surprise party to lift not only Hayley's spirits, but everyone else's too..."

Having got Kat to help her and Ian to bake a cake, Jean's plan is coming together – but once the time comes to spring her big surprise, Hayley is horrified to see what's waiting for her!

"After taking one glance at the gathering, Hayley scarps," sighs our snitch. "Kat follows in hot pursuit, yet with both these women dealing with their issues, will they help each other, or just make things worse?"

Later, there's a ring on the doorbell, and Kat paints on a smile to answer it. Her expression soon drops, though – when she realises that it's Alfie!

With Hayley still hiding her baby secret from him, are we set for one massive Slater showdown?

Hayley is not at all pleased with the party Jean has arranged

Drunken Graham confesses?

THE TRUTH COULD BE OUT, AS JOE'S KILLER STARTS TALKING...

EMMERDALE | ITV THURSDAY

Tortured Graham goes on a drinking spree this week, culminating in him taking Noah to Butlers Farm and implicating Cain in Joe's disappearance! But with Debbie there too, are secrets about to be spilled?

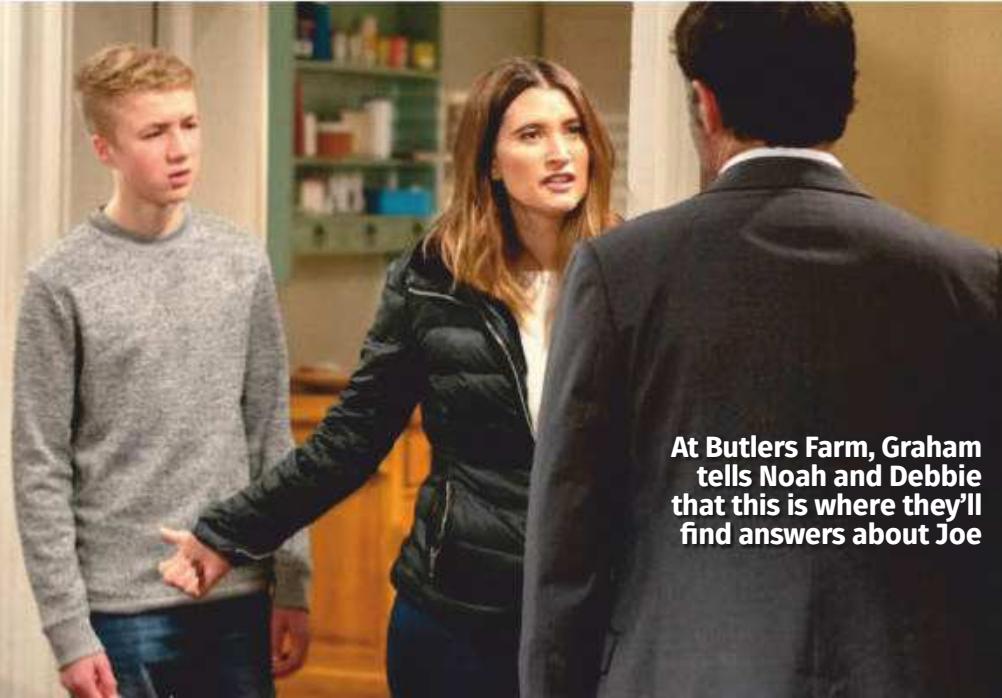

Consumed by guilt, Graham drowns his sorrows and starts acting up all over Emmerdale, even trying to seduce former lover, Megan. But nothing can shift Graham's torment, and it looks as if he might confess to Joe's murder. Will he admit he killed his surrogate son?

"Graham is on the brink of exploding – he's full of booze and finding it very difficult to keep it all inside," admits Andrew Scarborough, who plays the Dales killer. "He was almost about to tell Debbie everything last week, but then shied away from it. Yet because he's drunk, he's pushing it."

While he drinks, scheming Nicola tries to get Priya on side to help her send alcoholic Graham over the edge so they can take control of Home Farm. However, Graham barely cares about the Tate estate, as he's so haunted by what he did.

"Graham is coping pretty terribly – he's distraught and bereft and misses Joe a lot," shares Andrew. "I think that he needs to talk to a priest or something. He's in need of a few Bloody Marys! The burden of keeping a lid on it is weighing heavy on him."

At Butlers Farm, Graham tells Noah and Debbie that this is where they'll find answers about Joe

When he runs out of booze, Graham grabs his car keys and Megan is shocked to see that he's about to drive drunk. Although their fling ended in disaster, it's clear that she still cares about him, so she tries to help him as he flails about.

"Megan talks Graham out of driving – she looks out for him because I think she still has feelings for him," speculates Andrew. "She

Friend Or FOE?

Graham and Kim's future is uncertain...

It was Graham's boss – and lover – Kim who ordered him to kill Joe, and going through with it has destroyed him. So how will Graham feel when Kim returns to the village next year?

"Oh, that relationship has changed because of what Kim asked of him – there's a lot of tension," muses Andrew. "They both have something over each other now!"

But could there be another twist in the tale? Fans reckon Graham didn't go through with it, which would put a whole new spin on things...

"That'd be wonderful!" enthuses Andrew. "After all, Graham knew Joe like a son, and I don't think Graham would kill his own son. Viewers don't trust me at all any more – not that I think they trusted Graham before. But they're more wary of what he says and does now!"

Graham misinterprets Megan's kindness and tries to make a move on her takes pity on him, and then he lunges at her for a kiss, although Megan isn't at all interested. I think that's because he's so drunk, but also because she's just left Frank and isn't ready for it."

Mortified by the rejection, Graham stumbles into the countryside and chances upon Noah, who is worried by his reaction to Joe going missing. Noah convinces Graham to walk with him, but Graham leads them to Butlers Farm, where he starts making cryptic comments to the lad and Debbie about Cain.

"Graham hints that Cain knows more than he's saying," shares Andrew. "He wants to have someone else know how he's feeling. There's more turmoil to come!"

Can Cain silence Graham before Noah cottons on?

Jenny's trap for Liz!

SHE'S DETERMINED TO CATCH JOHNNY AND LIZ IN THE ACT...

Jenny is struggling to let go of her doubts about Liz and Johnny

Jenny's jealousy ends up getting the better of her this week – as she suspects that her hubby Johnny is still up to no good with his floozy, Liz McDonald!

Despite the fact that Johnny has assured his missus that his night with Liz was a one-off, Jenny is utterly consumed with paranoia while she watches the two of them work closely push her to do something very sneaky indeed...

"You can hardly blame Jenny for being suspicious – her husband's bit on the side is there all day, every day," mutters our Coronation Street insider. "Talk about rubbing it in her face! Now that Johnny has confessed all, and Jenny's given him another chance, he should be doing everything he can to prove to his wife that together behind the bar of the Rovers. And her growing feeling of unease is about to she's the only one he wants. Instead, she has to witness Johnny and Liz cavorting around behind the bar together on a daily basis!"

That would be plenty to send even the sanest of women round the bend – and Jenny isn't exactly low-maintenance! So when she spots her husband and Liz exchanging a flirtatious smile during the quiz night, it's enough to send her into a jealous rage... and she steals Liz's phone!

"It's sad that Jenny has to resort to these measures!"

Desperate to catch the pair of them out, Jenny surreptitiously scrolls through her employee's messages, looking for evidence that Liz and Johnny are still at it. She's almost disappointed after her search comes up empty – however, her secret sleuthing doesn't stop there.

Jenny's next move is to 'accidentally' drop Liz's phone in some water! When Liz finds her mobile and realises it's kaput, Jenny kindly offers up her own phone to Liz, explaining that she's due to upgrade to the latest model anyway. Liz gratefully accepts the kind offer – but what exactly is Jenny up to?

"You can bet your bottom dollar that Jenny isn't doing this out of the goodness of her heart!" insists our mole. "While it's not quite clear yet what her motives are, Jenny is definitely up to something. Despite Johnny's protests that he only has eyes for his wife, the trust has clearly gone between them. It's sad that Jenny feels as though she has to resort to such measures just to keep her hubby in check!"

Later in the week, Jenny's suspicions are raised again when Johnny announces that it's too noisy in the pub, and he's heading over to the Bistro in order to find some peace and quiet. Jenny doesn't believe him for one second, and decides to storm over to the local eatery, certain that she's going to catch her other half having a secret rendezvous with Liz!

So, as the paranoid landlady bursts into the restaurant to be confronted with Liz, will we discover that she really is up to no good with Johnny? Or is Jenny about to make a complete fool of herself, as she accuses Liz of something she hasn't actually done?

Sarah Ellis

POOR RITA RECUPERATES

She's injured after taking a tumble...

Adding to Jenny's worries this week is the fact that she has a houseguest staying at the Rovers – in the shape of her injured loved one Rita!

The newsagent comes a cropper when she slips on some wet paving stones outside the pub, and twists her ankle. Jenny feels responsible, seeing as she was cleaning the path when the accident happened, so invites her foster-mum to stay at the boozer while she recuperates.

However, while Jenny's only too happy to play nursemaid to the poorly pensioner, Johnny's sick of Rita cluttering up the Rovers living room – which is what prompts him to seek solace in the Bistro. Has Rita's presence sent him into Liz's arms? And how long will the Street stalwart be out of action thanks to her impromptu injury?

ALL MEL BREAKS LOOSE!

Her revenge revealed as Ray is arrested on their wedding day...

Here's the moment EastEnders' Mel Owen gets her revenge on her lying fiancé Ray Kelly – as he's arrested on their wedding day!

Despite Mel knowing that Ray has a secret wife, it's been full-steam ahead towards their wedding. And if reports are to be believed, she's set to go through with marrying Ray – before having him nicked for bigamy straight after! While Mel may look smug as she carries out her plans, has she underestimated her new husband?

"It looks as if Mel has won when Ray is bundled into a police car," says our Walford insider. "But this may only be the beginning of the story – Ray has proved to be a clever manipulator. And with time in the force, he may be able to persuade the police to drop the charges, leaving him free to carry out his revenge!"

Whatever happens after, the wedding day – expected to be screened on New Year's Day – looks eventful. Ray's wife Maddie is in attendance, along with a third woman – rumoured to be another of Ray's secret lovers. There's no solidarity on view between the wronged women, though, as Mel delivers a cracking slap!

While the day certainly brings great entertainment value to the assembled residents of Albert Square – who have put on their glad rags for the big event – one person who appears distinctly unamused is Mel's son Hunter.

"Hunter idolises Ray," our source reminds us. "Before the drama, the two arrive at the ceremony together, so it seems certain that he's Ray's best man on the day. So after he realises what Mel

Slap that! Mel gives Ray's other women what-for is up to, he won't be happy. Things have been strained between Hunter and his mum, especially when it comes to her choice of men – he plotted against his mum and Jack getting together – so what Mel does could lead to big trouble.”

New EastEnders boss Kate Oates promised that Mel's New Year story would give actress Tamzin Outhwaite a chance to “flex her acting muscles” – and judging by these pictures, this plot is certainly going to do that!

WATCH OUT, KAREN!

Her bad-boy ex Mitch is returning...

Will Keegan be pleased or peeved to see his father again?

After a hellish six months, EastEnders' Keegan Baker has needed his father more than ever – so it's better late than never that his wayward dad Mitch is coming back to Walford!

It's been revealed that actor Roger Griffiths will be reprising his role as the slippery customer – who we last saw slinking off with his tail between his legs after Karen found out that he was married.

“It feels great to be returning to Albert Square and working with the wonderful cast and crew again – especially the fantastic Taylor family,” grins Roger. “I'm excited for the viewers to learn more about Mitch and see what kind of trouble he gets himself into this time...”

Upon Mitch setting foot back in Walford, it will appear that the schemer has a few tricks up his sleeve. But will he be able to charm Karen and her family once more?

“I want a word with him!” jokes actress Lorraine Stanley, who plays Karen. “He's the love of her life. He's broken her heart, but she still adores him.

“Roger is such a brilliant actor,” she adds. “I love working with him. He's a lovely bloke and so natural.”

Roger has already started filming again – meaning Mitch will rock up at No 23B just in time for Christmas...

Despite his many faults, Karen can't help loving Mitch

Twenty years ago, Mandy was marrying her cousin Butch Dingle – what drama lies ahead?

Is there unfinished business for Mandy and Paddy?

EMMERDALE

DINGLE ALL THE WAY!

There's going to be an Emmerdale family reunion in early 2019...

The news that Mandy Dingle is to return to Emmerdale has been greeted with enthusiasm by fans, leaving actress Lisa Riley, who last played the role 17 years ago, overwhelmed...

"Thank you, thank you, thank you, for all your incredibly gorgeous, positive messages regarding my character Mandy coming back to Emmerdale – I am blown away!" she tweeted. "To share my news with everyone has been so exciting, and then to get this reaction, has made my day – I'm beyond giddy."

The actress will make her on-screen return to the soap where she made her name in the new year, in what's described as a short 'self-contained' storyline. She was last seen in 2001, where she tried to reunite with husband Paddy after her affair destroyed their marriage. So what brings her back after all this time?

"Mandy returns to the village carrying a secret that turns lives upside down," says producer Kate Brooks. "She's a character bursting with fun who certainly ruffles a few feathers during her short stint back in the village. She clearly hasn't lost any of the joie de vivre that made Mandy so popular and enjoyable to watch."

Since leaving Emmerdale, Lisa has made a name for herself as a TV presenter and personality – particularly as a competitor in 2012's Strictly Come Dancing – and has continued acting in dramas such as Fat Friends, Three Girls and Age Before Beauty. But she still admits to having some nerves...

"My biggest thanks goes to my fellow cast members who have welcomed me back with open arms and helped me find my way – being the new girl at school again!" she laughs.

What's MANDY'S SECRET?

ILLNESS?

Does Mandy perhaps contact her family because she's suffering from a condition that means she needs some Dingle DNA? In which case, is she searching for a donor?

CHILD?

Lisa herself has said before that Mandy slept with Paddy before they ultimately parted – so could she possibly have a 16-year-old in tow who looks distinctly familiar?

CRISIS?

Perhaps she needs cash desperately, and has come up with a way for the dodgy Dingles to help her out – but at what risk to themselves?

NICOLA'S BACK!

CORRIE

They've had a rocky year or two, but Corrie's Sarah and Gary are back in a good place – or so they think...

The news that Nicola Rubinstein – mother of Gary's baby Zack – is returning to the cobbles means there's trouble ahead for the pair. Although Nicola and Gary parted on good terms back in June, when she returns to visit Eileen in January, the mood might be an awful lot frostier.

"Nicola has a great heart – especially considering she's Pat Phelan's daughter!" says our cobbles spy.

"But she's a feisty one and will always speak her mind, so it's easy for things to flare up. Plus, although Sarah has moved on from Gary and Nicola having a baby behind her back, has she truly forgiven them both? It'll be interesting to find out!"

Her return could mean bad news for Gary and Sarah...

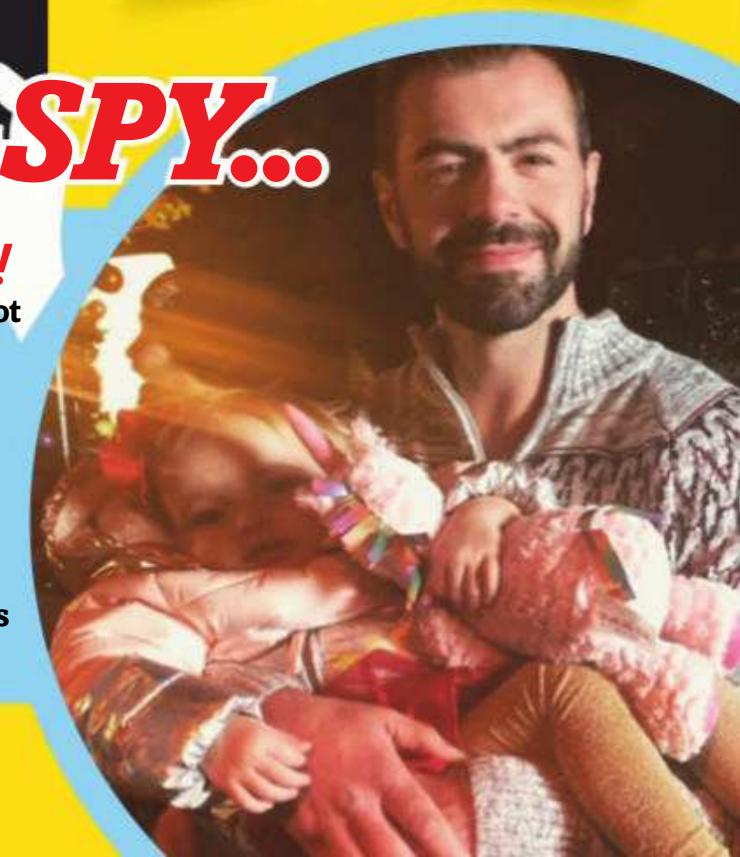

Could Nicola create a new rift between Sarah and Gary?

Soap SPY...

How heart-warming! Can a behind-the-scenes soap shot get any better? Here's Hollyoaks' David Tag (Sylver) keeping the little beauty who plays Carmina McQueen warm, during a night shoot. We're not sure who's cuter – the content tot or her on-screen uncle (or whatever relation he is – with the McQueens we can never be entirely sure!).

STOP PRESS!

Jen's gown and out!

Hollyoaks' Jennifer Metcalfe didn't let filming Mercy's big day keep her from lunch – she went to the pub for pie and chips in her dress! "It takes so long to get off, and you only get an hour, so you have to make the best of it!" she says.

Street shock!

Reports suggest terror will rock Weatherfield as Dev's shop is the target of a robbery, leaving him determined to find the culprits.

Jack in the docs!

Former EastEnder Jack Ryder (Jamie Mitchell), is set to appear in Holby City. He'll play consultant surgeon Evan Crowhurst, who will arrive in 2019. "I'm delighted to be joining," he grins.

Following the devastating storm which took the life of Tegan Lomax, the day of Misbah's tribunal arrives this week – but while the hospital board decide she's not guilty of manslaughter, her abusive son spirals out of control...

Despite allegations of manslaughter, Misbah is cleared, with no charges upheld against her. To celebrate, Misbah and her family decide to go for drinks at the Dog. Unfortunately, that's where Tegan's wake is being held – and soon all hell breaks loose!

"For Misbah, her work is her life," explains star Harvey Virdi, who plays her. "It's something she's always wanted – to save people. So to be at a hearing and to have her work under scrutiny, is huge for her. But in the joy of not losing her job, she completely forgets. If she actually stopped for a minute to think about it, she might've gone into that situation with a different energy. The last thing that Misbah should be doing is celebrating when Tegan's whole family is there."

Misbah comes face to face with the distraught Lomaxes – and in his fury, Ste throws a glass of wine over her!

Of course, the tribunal and Tegan's death are not all that's on Misbah's mind. Her home life is hardly peaceful, as she's being terrorised and abused by her son, Imran.

"Imran's behaviour has got progressively worse," Harvey tells us. "Misbah is really frightened of him. He's got to a stage where he just loses it – he's in a red mist and he's off!"

Unbeknown to Misbah, Yaz tries to come to her mum's rescue before the tribunal with a confession tape from Imran. However, her brother catches her in the act and turns on her. Later, shaken Yaz shows her bruises to Misbah.

"Misbah's been in denial for a long time," reflects Harvey. "It's the realisation that Imran has now started on his sister. Where will it go from here if she doesn't put her foot down?"

Misbah's concern also lies with the other members of her

The last thing Misbah should do is celebrate in front of Tegan's family

The tense situation escalates, and Misbah is covered in red wine clan, Sami and Farrah, and their reactions. Will they stand by their mum – or turn against her if the secret gets out?

"Misbah is frightened," confesses Harvey. "It's the fear that if she tells anyone – whether it's Farrah or Sami – that they're going to think she's a bad mother. She ultimately doesn't want her son to be taken away."

Could Imran starting on Yaz be the wake-up call that Misbah needs to get him help?

"Misbah's main strength is the love she has for her family," sighs Harvey. "But it's the same thing that makes her weak. She just wants to give Imran another chance because he's her little boy, and she feels that she needs to look after him."

FAREWELL TEGAN!

The day of the tragic mum's funeral has arrived – but will Ste be there?

Leela is distraught as the residents of Hollyoaks arrive to pay their respects to her late sister, and throughout the day, she leans on boyfriend Louis for support. Meanwhile, Ste's mind is elsewhere...

After receiving a letter stating that there is no evidence to support Misbah's manslaughter charge, Ste decides to protest outside the hospital while Misbah is in her plea hearing. But despite the Lomaxes' opposition, Misbah still believes that she did the right thing in trying to save Tegan.

"It's the doctor's dilemma," Harvey tells us. "If Misbah hadn't done anything, there would have been consequences – and even though she did try to help Tegan, there are consequences for that too."

With Tegan's funeral about to begin, can Ste find the strength to attend and say goodbye to his sister?

Will Sally be found guilty?

THE JURY, AND HER HUSBAND, MAKE THEIR DECISIONS...

Terrified Sally faces the jury's verdict this week, as the prosecution paints her as a manipulative, money-hungry seductress.

Sally is in a terrible state when she prepares to take the stand, especially as her lawyer Paula is threatening to tell the prosecution that she deliberately put herself in the hospital in order to buy time. She knows that her and Abi's stupid plan could cost them dearly, and any damage to her credibility could destroy her chances of convincing the jury she's innocent. So, when Sally takes to the stand, she's under serious pressure.

"It's Sally's word against the mountain of evidence that Duncan created to frame her," warns our Weatherfield source. "She's desperate and delivers a heartfelt testimony, telling the jury that she never entered an affair with sleazy Duncan, never stole money from the council and is deeply in love with her husband. But even Tim doubts what really happened, and if he can't believe Sally didn't betray him, she's facing an uphill battle."

One person she's counting on is Gina, who has agreed to act as a character witness for her sister. It's a mystery as to why Sally would rely on Gina – who is a wildcard at best – to take such an important role in her trial. But no matter what everyone else makes of Gina, Sally believes that she can rely on her sister to come through for her. Is Sally right?

Once everyone has said their piece, it's time for the prosecution and defence to sum up their cases. While

“By the time she gets out, Sally might have lost everything...”

Sally puts her faith in Gina to deliver a character reference the evidence against Sally is reiterated and she's talked of as a scheming criminal fuelled by lust, Tim struggles to cope. Paula does her best to consolidate Sally's defence, yet it's a nail-biting moment as the jury retires to consider its verdict.

"If Sally is found guilty, she will be facing a long prison sentence and the devastation of being sent down for a crime she didn't commit," muses our insider. "Meanwhile, Tim will be left alone and, given how close he and Gina are becoming, they might get even closer! By the time that she's freed, there's a chance that Sally will have lost everything."

When the court resumes and Sally waits to hear which way the jury will go, everybody is terrified for the future. But what she doesn't realise is that having listened to all the evidence, Tim is formulating his own verdict on his wife's conduct, and he's far from convinced that Sally is the innocent party. Will her worst nightmare come true?

SOPHIE IS DUMPED!

Lawyer Paula has had enough...

There's heartbreak for Sophie this week, as her girlfriend Paula calls time on their romance.

Things have been tricky since Paula found out it was Sophie who told Sally that she should fake an accident to stall the trial – which wasn't the first time that Sophie had done something criminal to protect a loved one! Paula had to order her to tell the police the truth about what happened with pal Ryan and overdose victim Cormac, then there was the shame of her behaviour against the judge at Speed Daal, where she put Sal's freedom at risk.

All things considered, Paula decides that Sophie isn't the woman for her and dumps her, leaving Sophie in despair. Can she convince Paula to give her another chance, or is their relationship over?

You shan't go to the ball, Bernice!

HER DAUGHTER GABBY AND LIAM'S LASS LEANNA SET BERNICE UP FOR A FALL...

EMMERDALE | ITV WEDNESDAY

Liam and Bernice's romance looks set to be scuppered by their conniving kids this week – as Liam's daughter Leanna and Bernice's teenager Gabby join forces!

While Bernice prepares to attend a gala with her dishy doctor, Leanna informs her that she's chosen an unsuitable outfit. So in a rush, Bernice picks up an unflattering dress in the hope that it will be much more appropriate – but the Dales lady is left with a face as red as the monstrosity she's wearing! Will her humiliating wardrobe malfunction leave Bernice back on the shelf?

"The poor woman!" wails our village insider. "Bernice is so excited about the prospect of a glamorous night out on Liam's arm, yet Gabby and Leanna are determined to rip their parents' relationship to shreds. While Leanna is dishing out supposedly helpful fashion advice, Gabby is insisting to Liam that her mother is looking for some serious commitment from him. By the time Bernice turns up at the Woolpack looking like a poor man's Princess Bride, it looks as though those pesky girls are getting their wicked way..."

Prior to their kids cooking up this shameless scheme, Liam and Bernice's partnership is blossoming nicely. Having finally binned off her hapless other half Daz, Bernice is smitten with the handsome local medic – but Leanna and Gabby are having none of it...

"Bernice is finally feeling happy again after a serious blip in her love life – though after Gabby claims Bernice is after all or nothing, Liam starts to feel uneasy," shares our spy. "And it's almost too easy for Leanna to trick Bernice into taking a trip into town to buy a ridiculous red meringue! Liam's face says it all as she meets him in the pub – and Leanna is positively gleeful..."

It doesn't take long for Bernice – or her fuming pal

"Liam's face says it all, and Leanna is gleeful!"

Luckily for Bernice, Kerry has her back when she's embarrassed

Kerry – to work out what Leanna's been doing, though. While Bernice points out what the teen has done, she only feels worse when Liam sides with his daughter.

But when Leanna gets up to more mischief later in the week, might Bernice be given the chance to save her flailing relationship before it's too late?

"It seems that Leanna's cruel capabilities know no bounds," tuts our sneak. "A matter a days after landing Bernice in hot water, she sets her sights on Noah, claiming that she's undertaking dares to outdo a local school gang – and goads him to steal a bottle of vodka.

"However, will she get away with these latest shenanigans? Or will her father realise that she isn't so innocent after all?"

Ruby's RAPE HELL revealed!

ALBERT SQUARE REACTS
AS HER ASSAULT MAKES FRONT-PAGE NEWS...

The truth comes out
following a confrontation
at the Queen Vic

Martin is conflicted over the situation involving his wife's best mate and his own pals

The Queen Vic is the hub of intense debate this week, as Ruby's rape ordeal becomes public knowledge. The local residents are forced to challenge their own perceptions on the subject of consent after Martin's mates, Ross and Matt, are charged by the police for Ruby's assault – putting her in a very uncomfortable position when people realise that she is the woman who reported them...

"Both boys are charged, which is a shock for Ruby at first," explains star Louisa Lytton, who plays her. "In Ruby's mind she was raped by Matt, and she doesn't think that Ross had anything to do with it. But actually, Ross was complicit in what Matt did to her, and enabled it to happen. It's a lot for Ruby to take in."

Guilt washes over Ruby as she shares the news with Martin, who does his best to support her while still feeling conflicted over his old school pals.

"There's a twinge of uneasiness on Ruby's part as Ross and Matt are Martin's friends, and she's worried that it's going to create a problem for her best mate Stacey's husband," shares Louisa. "The fact that they've been charged means there could be a court case – and Ruby knows that's the right thing, but she just wants to put it to the back of her mind."

However, this being Walford, that is the complete opposite of what Ruby is able to do, after the local newspaper runs a story on the rape.

"Ruby bumps into Jay – as they are striking up a bit of a friendship – and he drops the Walford Gazette down in front of her," reveals Louisa. "She knows that it's gone to the paper and that her name hasn't been reported – but the last thing that she wants is for people to know, or even be talking about it.

"I think for Ruby she has a lot of self-doubt, and that's one of the main reasons why some women don't come forward," adds the actress. "She knows what happened didn't feel right, yet for a while she's not sure that it's rape and if she could have done anything to stop it. She's worried that people won't believe her when they find out, and feels as though the whole world is looking at her. They're not – it's all her own paranoia, but then it all comes out in the Vic."

"Ruby is worried that people won't believe her"

The drama unfolds after Ruby and Stacey head over to the pub, unaware that Martin is already there with Ross and Matt. The scenes that follow form what is a special episode for EastEnders – with Ruby's story the sole focus as the other characters realise that she, Ross and Matt are the people being talked about in the newspaper article...

CONTINUED OVER ▶

FROM PREVIOUS PAGE

"The episode is entirely set in the Queen Vic with a smaller amount of characters that I wouldn't usually see," explains Louisa. "Ruby walks into the pub and everyone has seen the article, and they're all speculating over the case. She thinks everyone will work out it's her when she hears things such as, 'These young girls who go out in short skirts...'"

As Ruby desperately tries to ignore what everyone is

Local residents Denise and Kush give their opinions on the hot topic talking about, Stacey spots Martin across the room with Ross and Matt – and that's when Ruby's secret explodes.

"Stacey is about to fly off the handle, but Ruby is anxious for her to keep quiet so as not to expose her," says Louisa. "And then Glenn – the third guy at the club that night but not involved in the rape – storms over and blurts out stuff, and everyone realises the girl in the paper is Ruby. She thinks, 'Oh my God, everyone knows it's me'."

With the truth out, Ruby tries to put on a brave face – but the following day it's clear that she's struggling when the stress overwhelms her in the market.

It's Whitney who ends up coming to Ruby's aid – no doubt as a result of her own history with sexual abuse. While the women share a meaningful heart-to-heart, can Ruby stay strong in the face of intense scrutiny? Or will the pressure cause her to crack?

Laura-Jayne Tyler

Ruby is anxious for Stacey to keep quiet and not expose her"

"It was scary filming in the Vic!"

Louisa talks us through her EastEnders return so far...

It's the first opportunity that we've had to speak with Louisa since Ruby's hard-hitting plot aired – and the star tells us that the storyline has been a real eye-opener for her...

What has the response to Ruby's ordeal been like from the viewers?

So many women have messaged me on social media and sent emails to my agent to personally say thank you for doing the story. When I was in the show before, there was no direct contact other than fan mail, so to receive that response, it just goes to show that people have really bought into it.

Did you feel pressure when filming the big reveal episode in the Vic?

Everyone in the show will tell you that filming in the Vic is scary – even people that I'm in awe of like Steve McFadden [who plays Phil] and Letitia Dean [aka Sharon] say it. Everyone is staring at Ruby at the end, and my knees went weak. I was so nervous – but some people don't really understand 'the Vic fear' when everyone looks at you!

Has doing this storyline made you reassess your own views surrounding the issue of consent?

It's led my own circle of friends to talk to me about their experiences, and now they're asking me questions about things we've been through. It's not something you discuss – you'd think our generation would be the one to discuss it, but we don't. I've never had those conversations with my friends before.

RUBY'S HERO?

Jay has his heart set on his new friend...

Prior to Ruby's secret being revealed in the Vic, there's the sweetest little spark flickering between her and Jay. Star Jamie Borthwick (who plays Jay) recently hinted at the Inside Soap Awards that he and Louisa have been filming together of late – and this week, Jay plucks up the courage to ask Ruby on a date. But with everything that she has going on, will Ruby ever see Jay in that way?

"The friendship that develops between Ruby and Jay becomes her safe place," explains Louisa. "Initially she doesn't want to go near anybody, and men are the last thing she wants. However, at the same time, Ruby needs the comfort of a man, and she likes that Jay is around rather than that she likes the attention. It's a bit 'will-they-won't they?'. He's a very soft, tentative and loving guy."

Will Ruby be sticking around in Walford?

I'm there for a while. We have our new boss [Kate Oates] now, so after Christmas it will be all her stuff. I've met with Kate and she's lovely – everyone is excited and there is a really good atmosphere. John Yorke [EastEnders' executive consultant] brought me back, so I'm very grateful for that.

If Ruby's father Johnny Allen was still around in Albert Square, do you think things would be different?

There would've been a few more murders, I'm guessing! My first EastEnders experience was me and Billy Murray [aka Johnny], and of course Lacey [Turner, who plays Stacey]. Being here without him at first was really strange. But I don't think that they can bring another character back from the dead!

Are you looking forward to having some time off over Christmas?

I'm going to Hawaii on Boxing Day, which I booked before coming back to EastEnders. I want to see lots of the island and I'm hoping to do some watersports and hiking – so I'll probably be really tanned in March when I'm on screen!

Alice attacks Piper!

HER REVENGE PLAN HAS AN UNINTENTIONAL VICTIM...

NEIGHBOURS | Channel 5 WEDNESDAY

Nasty nanny Alice comes close to being rumbled by Piper this week – and is forced to silence her!

Alice panics when she hears that some information about Andrea's mother is being delivered to Toadie's office, and she sets out to intercept it before the Rebecchi family discovers her true identity. But after her plot is interrupted by Piper, Alice has to take drastic action to cover her tracks...

"Alice sneaks up behind Piper with a crowbar – this woman isn't messing around!" gasps Mavournee Hazel, who plays the injured party. "It's a surprise to Piper, who takes a pretty hard knock to the head."

Viewers will know that evil Alice – aka Andrea's mum – has been secretly trying to drive a wedge between Toadie and Sonya, hoping that will leave the path clear for Toadie to be with her daughter. So the last thing she needs is them finding out who she really is!

After hitting Piper over the head, Alice swipes the vital documents, which have been delivered courtesy of Paul's private investigator. But as she's about to make a run for it, Alice spots Ned coming towards her – so is forced to pretend that she's just foiled a break-in!

"Piper is lucky, as she's not badly injured – it could have been a lot worse," says Mavournee. "She's not suspicious at all about Alice, she sees her as a guardian angel at this point."

Alice crowbars in another nasty act

While Piper is checked over at the hospital, no one is any the wiser as to what evil Alice was up to. But how long can she continue with her cruel vendetta before someone cottons on to her? And will Piper realise that something about the supposed 'break-in' just doesn't seem to add up?

"Piper thinks it was probably just kids, because she

Johnny's gesture paves the way for his daughter to pursue IVF treatment

Kate and Rana take their first tentative steps to becoming parents this week, after Johnny offers to pay the bill for their IVF treatment. And as Kate pushes forward with her plans, she makes a big suggestion herself – and asks Robert to father the baby!

When Rana and Kate look at their options, they're shocked to discover the process of IVF will set them back several thousand pounds. However, as Johnny learns of their financial woes, he comes to their rescue. It's fantastic news for both Kate and Rana – or is it?

"Kate is desperate for a baby, and when she mentions it to her dad, you can see how she's trying to fill that void since her brother Aidan's death," says Faye Brookes, who plays her. "She misses that family unit, and this baby could be something that she takes care of and protects. Johnny then has a conversation with Rita that suddenly ignites something in him, and there's a possibility he will be able to fund it. It's still a lot of money!"

Kate is too caught up in her own excitement to notice that

CORONATION STREET | ITV MONDAY

Will Kate's baby dreams end in tears?

JOHNNY'S ON SIDE, BUT THERE'S TROUBLE AS SHE ASKS ROBERT TO BE THE FATHER...

her lover isn't nearly as overjoyed – because unseen by either Kate or Johnny, the look on Rana's face isn't one of genuine joy! She's not as keen to be a mother, and while she doesn't want to burst Kate's bubble, she's secretly been hoping that the high price of IVF might put off her eager partner for a while.

Nevertheless, Rana paints

women are soon at the fertility clinic to take the next step. While Kate is practically hopping up and down with excitement, Rana does her best to seem thrilled too.

"Kate tells Rana that she'll be the one to carry the baby," reveals Faye.

"I don't think anything will faze her right now. She'll just beg, borrow and steal it. That's how much she wants it. She'll go the whole way, with no turning back. Throughout this whole process, she's seeing something that will make her happy, and I don't think she realises that Rana is what will really make her happy! She's become blinded by this baby idea, and will stop at absolutely nothing."

Later, Kate enthusiastically tells her dad about the trip to the clinic, and Johnny can't hide his delight about the prospect of another grandchild arriving soon. However, Rana's smile is beginning to crack, and she confesses to Kate that she's not happy about the idea of a complete stranger fathering their child.

"It puts a spanner in the works for Kate," admits Faye. "She is really determined, though. She thinks, 'Well, if it can't be a stranger, let's search elsewhere'. She has so many options spinning around her head – and even thinks about adoption. So while Rana is at work, Kate storms into the medical centre and drops this bombshell that they'll adopt!"

Angry at being disturbed, Rana sends her fiancée packing. Wounded, Kate drowns her sorrows, and then drunkenly asks Robert to donate his sperm!

"Everything Kate says is to do with babies," sighs Faye. "Robert lets his guard down and confides that he's always wanted to be a dad. That's when the penny drops for Kate, and she thinks that Robert could be the answer to everything!"

Robert tells Kate that her suggestion is ridiculous and turns her down. However, with Kate hell-bent on being a mum, will she grind him down and force him to agree?

Tom Spilsbury

"Kate can't wait for her dad to walk her down the aisle!"

Faye reckons that her character is most definitely taking charge...

With Kate obsessed with babies, and Rana having doubts, will the couple make it down the aisle?

"They've spent so much time apart, love is in the air completely," reckons Faye. "They are just infatuated with each other, and they can't wait to start making plans for the future."

But will those plans be made jointly – or will Kate be the one taking charge?

"Because Rana has been married before, she's slightly reserved," suggests Faye. "Whereas Kate is the opposite. This is the first time, and she knows she's marrying the woman of her dreams. She wants the perfect dress, and can't wait for her dad to walk her down the aisle. So I think she's far more excited than Rana..."

BEST OF ENEMIES

My favourites in Corrie at the moment are 'Aud and Claud' – they have me in stitches with their constant bickering and one-upmanship (upwomanship?). They're the Street's answer to Alexis and Krystle in Dynasty. I hope that I'm half as up-for-it when I'm their age!

COME ON, CAIN!

Why is the normally strong Cain so worried that he's going to be implicated in the murder of Joe by Graham? Yes, I know that he thinks he did it, but there can't be a scrap of evidence, and there were certainly no other witnesses when Cain hit Joe. And if the body does turn up, all the evidence will point squarely at Graham. So come on, Cain – call his bluff!

✉ | Ellie, Huddersfield

And that's if Joe is even dead at all. I definitely don't think he is!

PUNCH! WALLOP!

I know it's not good to support violence, but I really laughed when EastEnders' Rainie and Cora

Cain tried hard to remember the bad boy he was when he first arrived in the Dales walloped each other in the Queen Vic. It was just the shock of it. And then even that seemed like nothing by the time Cora brained her daughter with a frying pan. That family... The police were right to whisk Baby Abi away!

✉ | Simone
It's time for Tanya to come back to look after that poor kiddie!

Let's hope this mother-daughter violence is just a flash in the pan

MEDICAL MARVEL

Following on from the letter in your last issue about Tori and Mason in Home and Away treating members of their own family at the hospital, I'd also like to know how Mason has time to study for a medical degree and work at the gym full-time. If I'd realised that training to be a doctor was so easy, I would have done it myself!

✉ | Ben, Widnes
Those rippling muscles must give him some kind of superpowers!

CELL MATES

It's really sad that Tracy has caused so much trouble for Abi in Corrie – but the idea of them putting Abi in prison with Sally is soap genius!

✉ | Anna
I agree. I think Abi and Sally will bring out the best in each other – eventually!

NANNY NO MATES

One of the funniest scenes this week was when 'Nanny Alice' in Neighbours went for her secret night out to the pub, and tried to crack on to Karl – hilarious!

Alice is in wonderland while causing trouble in Erinsborough

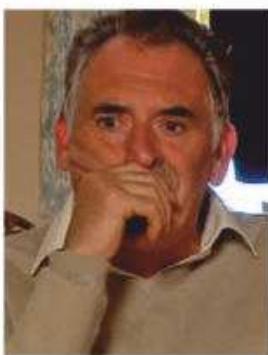

Especially as he was too dimwitted to realise what she was up to. I hope we get to see more of her wild side before she's rumbled!

💡 | Rebecca

I can't believe Karl thought she was genuinely interested in his stories about bicycle lanes!

BOB (NO) HOPE

Despite the fact that I totally accept why Brenda isn't willing to give house room to her cheating ex Bob, I really hope that this storyline isn't going to end up with him homeless and out on the streets. It would be too much like what Coronation Street did with Sean this year – and I reckon that we've had enough story repeats recently!

💡 | Chris, Wimbledon

He should move into the pirate ship – it looks very cosy!

HEY HEY HAYLEY

Thank God that Hayley is away from her mum again and back with the Slaters. I loved it when Kat came to the rescue. And Hayley shouldn't worry so much about how to bring up her baby. She has a whole houseful of other mums and babysitters!

💡 | Maggie

All will be fine as long as Alfie doesn't turn up... Oh (see p4).

MERCY'S MARRIAGE MAYHEM!

Hollyoaks' Mercedes truly believed that her sixth attempt at getting hitched would end happily ever after – but it turned out to be her most disastrous wedding yet, after the groom was murdered by Breda!

I've watched every single one of Mercedes' weddings in Hollyoaks, and I didn't think anything could top her nuptials to Dr Browning. But I have to say that this one was my favourite yet! It had everything you could want from a McQueen wedding – outrageous outfits, insults, punch-ups, Nana – and to top it all off, Breda was unmasked as a serial killer! I loved it.

💡 | Hannah, Essex

Oh my God, I can't believe that Breda is a murderer! What a brilliant twist. And you know what? I kind of agree with all of her crimes! Obviously horrible Glenn needed to be bumped off, and Carl wasn't very nice either. Russ was a dirty cheat, and didn't deserve Mercy or Goldie. So I reckon Breda did everyone a favour by getting rid of those scoundrels!

💡 | Kelvin

I'm not sure you should be encouraging murder, Kelvin! However, you're not the only one backing Breda...

Breda's just been plodding along in the background since she arrived in Hollyoaks, which makes this bombshell even more delicious! What's the betting that Sylver didn't really kill his stepdad – he was covering for his mum?

💡 | Hardeep, London

I really hope that this latest disaster of a wedding hasn't put Mercedes off getting hitched again. She's simply the best character in soap, and Jennifer Metcalfe plays her so well. I really can't wait for the next wedding!

💡 | Penelope

I give it a year before she's planning another ceremony!

AUD'S STYLE

I loved the episode of Corrie where Audrey got drunk at the hair stylist awards do! But do you know where her lovely dress was from, please?

Weren't those episodes just hilarious? Audrey's 'black and scarlet grace rose dress' is from Phase Eight – you can pick it up from www.debenhams.com for £99 right now.

EVER-DALES

I'm quite a new viewer of Emmerdale, and I just happened to wonder which characters/actors have been in the show the longest. Has anyone been there since the start?

Kelly

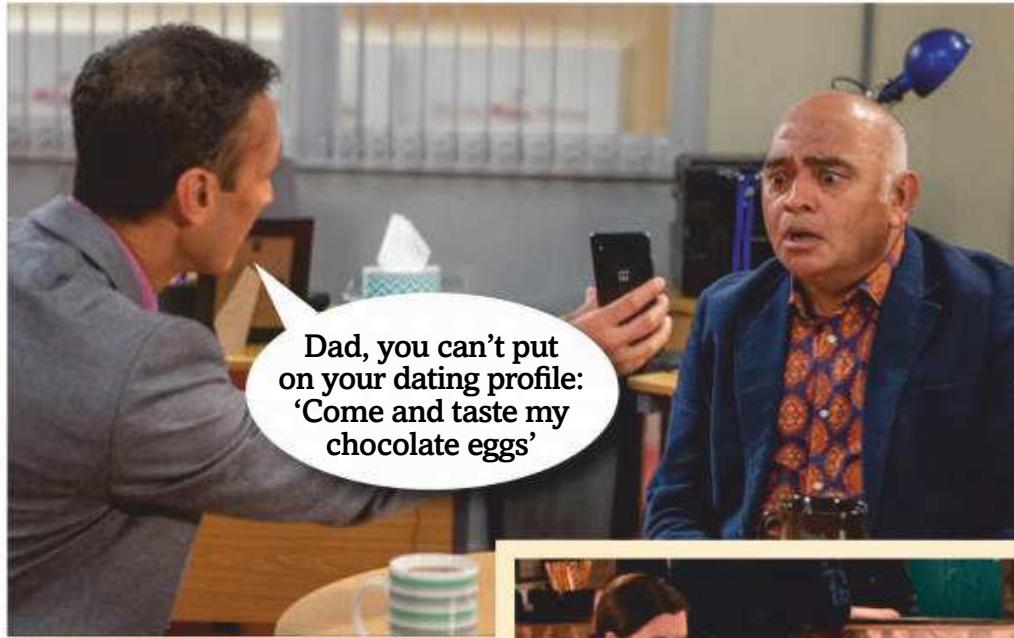

The last appearance by an actor who appeared in the very first episode (broadcast in 1972) was by Sheila Mercier, who played Annie Sugden (Robert and Victoria's grandma) in a cameo appearance in 2009. The longest-serving current cast member is Chris Chittell (Pollard) who's been around since 1986, followed by Zak Dingle star Steve Halliwell, who joined Emmerdale in 1994.

“Gina didn’t mean to fall for Tim!”

Corrie’s Connie Hyde tell us that her alter ego isn’t making waves on purpose – but we’re not sure Sally would agree...

I’m off for lunch with Julie Hesmondhalgh [formerly Corrie’s Hayley Cropper] after this – she has something lovely planned!” grins Street star Connie Hyde, aka Gina, as we sit down for a natter with her about her character’s crush on her sister’s hubby, Tim. “Julie and I have been friends since we were 14! It’s weird having her not here, but here – she’s sort of like a ghost, walking the corridors! Mind you, we couldn’t have worked together, because we were such a nightmare at drama school – you’d get no sense out of us!”

It’s a shame Gina and Hayley were never actually friends, as we reckon that Gina could do with a good pal to offer her some much-needed advice at the moment! Because, as Connie tells us, her alter ego has got herself into quite the predicament...

So Connie, Gina’s only gone and got herself a crush on her sister’s hubby! What is she thinking?

I don’t think that she’s considering the consequences of her actions, unfortunately. She and Tim have a lot in common – she likes that he enjoys having a beer and watching the football – he’s not a complicated man! If his tea is made, then he’s happy. And he’s quite kind to her, which she’s not used to. The problem is that he’ll give her a hug, and she’ll misconstrue it.

Meanwhile, poor Sal is languishing in jail for something that she didn’t do! Does Gina think she’s guilty?

“I don’t think that Gina is considering the consequences of her actions...”

I’m off for lunch with Julie Hesmondhalgh [formerly Corrie’s Hayley Cropper] after this – she has something lovely planned!”

While Sal’s away: Gina has been enjoying domestic bliss with her sister’s family

At first, absolutely not. She’s horrified by what’s happened. However, then she meets Duncan, and he’s actually very plausible, so she falls for his lies. Gina’s not the sharpest tool in the box! Also, he says to her that Sally told him that Gina was thick, and that confuses Gina. So she does eventually start to believe that Sal and Duncan had an affair.

Gina is asked to give a statement at Sally’s trial this week. Is that something she wants to do?

She tries to back out of it. She’s not very confident or articulate, so she gets really nervous about doing it. But she thinks what she’s doing is the best thing for Sally. Her sister is the closest person to her, so Gina’s the star witness.

Does Gina want Sal to go to prison?

No, she doesn’t want her to go to prison at all! But it’s quite convenient for Gina that Sally’s not there. She’s enjoying the fact that she has a ready-made family, and she’s getting very comfortable. And Gina loves that they think she’s more fun than Sal is! She lets Faye do things that Sally wouldn’t, and she watches zombie movies with Tim, which Sally wouldn’t be interested in. She’s happy and stable right now – it’s just a shame that it’s with Sally’s family, not hers!

Does Gina feel guilty that she has feelings for her sister’s mister?

Yes, very much so – and that will go on for a long time. She didn’t mean to fall for Tim, and she doesn’t intend to do anything about it. She has good intentions. None of it is pre-empted, it’s all in the moment for Gina.

Slam Duncan: The con man has even given Gina doubts about Sally

Gina may not have meant to fall for her brother-in-law, but everything could change if Sally was to end up going down for this crime! With Sal out of the way, the path would be clear for Gina to finally make a move on Tim. However, Connie is hoping that won't happen...

What was your reaction when you first found out that Gina would fall for Tim?

I love Sally [Dynevior, aka Sally] so much – we're best friends! So we both went, "Oh no!" Actually, though, the way it's been done is clever. It's not been Machiavellian, which was my fear at first, but it's been the opposite of that, and the storyline will run for a long time. There's been different peaks and it's very subtle, so I'm pleased with it.

Last time we spoke to Sally, she told us how well you two get on...

Ah, bless her! She is the best actress, and a beautiful person. Even after all these years on the show, she's still so passionate about it. She can do comedy and tragedy, which you'll see in the court scenes this week – it's just heartbreaking.

What does she think of you making a move on Tim?

Ha ha! Well, we were just worried that it would affect our relationship as sisters, but actually there's something that happens down the line that will rectify that...

Do you enjoy playing the scenes where Gina and Sal bicker?

I love those scenes! What I enjoy about that dynamic is that they were brought up in the gutter, so Gina has seen Sally as a real foul-mouthed scally. And Gina likes to make fun of the fact that she's now all posh, and remind her where she came from. That's something that no one else knows about Sally.

What do the Coronation Street viewers make of Gina?

Do you know what? I don't look on social media – I didn't want to, as I thought she'd be hated because of this story! From what I've heard, though, people actually feel sorry for her. Everyone that I meet in the street just thinks Gina is funny. She gets away with a lot because of that!

Do you reckon you would be friends with Gina in real life?

She'd be great to go for a drink with – but my God, you couldn't live with her! While she has a good heart, you wouldn't want to get drawn into all of that chaos!

Sarah Ellis

Green-eyed sister: Gina is very fond of Sally's hubby Tim

Connie's FAMOUS FIVE

The star spills the beans on her cobbles cast mates...

1 "Dolly-Rose Campbell

[Gemma] is hilarious! She's just a gorgeous, funny, intelligent girl. I think she's a good role model for young girls, actually. She's very self-effacing."

2

"My best pals on set are Sally, Dolly, and Jimmi Harkishin [Dev]. They're just such great people. I would love Gina to get back with Dev – I liked those two as a couple!"

3

"I'd love to have more scenes with Maureen Lipman, who plays Evelyn. I've always really admired her – and I don't think Gina would be afraid to square up to Evelyn!"

4

"There was a lovely scene between Fiz and Gina recently, where Gina opened up to her. Those two could be good pals – well, if Jennie McAlpine wasn't on maternity leave!"

5

"I'm in awe of the older cast at Corrie. I love Barbara Knox [aka Rita] – she wears three-inch heels! I can't even walk in heels. It's those iconic characters who really make Corrie what it is."

JESSIE HAS A
BRIGHT FUTURE
WITH MARLON
IF SHE WANTS
IT, EXPLAINS
HER REAL-LIFE
ALTER EGO
SANDRA MARVIN...

Jessie needs to find closure from her tragic past!

There was a time when we thought unlucky-in-love Marlon would never smile again, but thanks to lovely Jessie Grant he's positively beaming these days. She's changed his life for the better, and both he and daughter April have fallen in love with her and her son Ellis. They've reached that point in their romance where Marlon wants to say the 'L' word, and this week he takes the plunge. However, Sandra Marvin – who plays Jessie – tells us her alter ego's reaction is going to make him wonder if he's been reading their situation all wrong...

"Jessie is really happy with Marlon, but she's floored by what he does – she isn't expecting it at all," insists the star. "I reckon she's a bit shocked, because I don't think she's been in that position for a while, nor did she expect to be. Since Ellis moved in, she's been a bit distracted by the situation between them fighting over her other son, Billy."

Of course, Marlon declaring his love is the brainchild of April – the truly adorable member of the family. She encourages her dad to make a grand gesture to show Jessie what she means to him – but the moment doesn't end how they expect it to.

"Marlon gets the idea from April about being romantic and setting up fairy lights that spell out 'I love you, Jessie' on the wall of Tall Trees," explains Sandra. "As soon as she walks through the door, Marlon pounces on her, covers her eyes, and then does the big reveal. Her first instinct is that she's on the spot and doesn't know how to react. She retreats to settle herself a

When one door closes:
Could this be a turning point for Jessie and Marlon?

bit and speaks to Ellis about it. He tells her it's time to move on with her life."

Jessie's hesitation comes from her unresolved grief at the death of her first husband. The tragic loss changed her life, and while she went on to have a relationship and another child with Ellis' dad, Jessie didn't deal with her demons.

"When Billy's dad died, it was a shock because he was the love of her life, and Jessie thought that she'd be with him forever and ever," shares Sandra. "At the time, she was pregnant, so she just got on with life, but there were tell-tale signs that she never properly moved on. She needs to find closure, and she didn't do that when she was with Ellis' father, and it caused problems."

A widower himself, Marlon is the perfect person to help Jessie face things. Will his understanding help cement their relationship?

"Yes, it's Marlon who gives Jessie the courage to open up and they connect on a different level," says Sandra. "She finds a way to finally say goodbye, and I'm excited to see how their relationship changes from there."

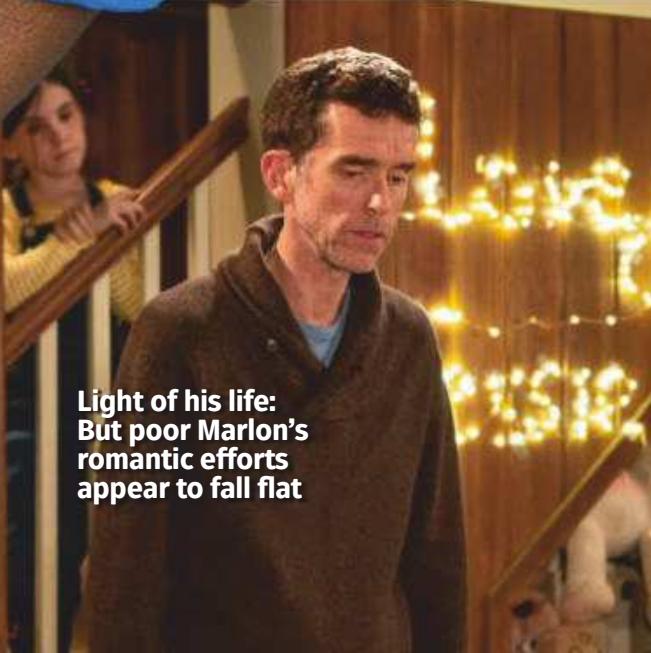

There's lots of potential for Jessie, so what's the story that Sandra would most like Emmerdale to tell?

"It'd be exciting to have Billy arrive, and Ellis' dad is out there too!" she muses. "Jessie would be delighted to have all her babies back around her. Even though Billy hasn't turned up yet, we're hearing lots about him. Jessie really believes in that strong family unit, and it breaks her heart a little bit that she doesn't have that."

She could have if she settles down with Marlon – but initially, there's the first Christmas for the couple to enjoy together. What does it hold for them?

"Jessie has an interesting Christmas coming up," teases Sandra. "I don't think she expects her Christmas to go where it does – there are a lot of twists and turns. It's going to change her life!"

Kate White

Light of his life:
But poor Marlon's
romantic efforts
appear to fall flat

Having a BALL!

Sandra loves singing with big showbiz names...

Talented Sandra has a career as a backing singer, as well as acting. One of the big names she's worked with is crooner Michael Ball.

"Michael is lovely – I worked with him on a production of Hairspray for many years – I was Motormouth Maybelle, and he was my Edna!" laughs Sandra. "He was brilliant, and I ended up doing a couple of his tours as a guest vocalist."

As much as she enjoys the spotlight, Sandra says her childhood dream was to be a backing singer.

"The first time I decided I wanted to do that was when I was watching Live Aid in 1985," she tells us. "I was about nine, and it was David Bowie's set that got me. He had two backing singers, and they were belting out his songs and having so much fun. They were loving their lives, and I thought, 'I want that!'"

Second time LUCKY!

HOLLYOAKS STAR
STEPHANIE DAVIS
TELLS US WHY
SHE'S OVER THE
MOON TO BE BACK
PLAYING SINEAD...

Life is really good for me right now,” grins Hollyoaks actress Stephanie Davis, as we sit down for our first in-depth natter with her about reprising her role as Sinead. “I did so much growing up when I was away from the show, and I appreciate this job so much more now. It's only when you lose something that you realise how much it means to you. Now I've got my son Caben, I'm doing what I love, and I feel that I'm in a very lucky position. Karma's been good to me!”

It's really great to see the star so happy and relaxed. Her turbulent personal life

Good to Ste you again: Steph is delighted to be reunited with some of her former cast mates

Sami again?: Sinead can't resist the fella's charms has been well-documented in the media over the past few years – but Inside Soap has known Steph since she first joined Hollyoaks as Sinead back in 2010. And we're delighted that she's finally back on our screens where she belongs, causing maximum drama in the village!

"When I left the show, I felt as though I had morphed into Sinead!" she chuckles. "So I had to get the balance back. I'm a lot different now as a person, and Sinead has a different side to her as well. But deep down, the old Sinead is still there."

You can say that again – it's been one catastrophe after another since Sinead arrived back in the village, very closely followed by her secret husband, Laurie. And this week, the suspicious woman is given reason to believe that her other half is doing the dirty on her!

"She really does love Laurie, but there's something that you can't quite put your finger on with him," teases Steph. "Sinead's just desperate to be loved, and she thinks if she has a good job and a good husband, and her family is all together, then it means that her life is good."

"There's a different side to Laurie, though, and that's why Sinead keeps finding herself drawn back to Sami," she adds. "Kyle [Pryor] plays Laurie so well, because you want to love this character, yet there's some stuff that will play out that will also make you want to hate him! And that's all that I can say right now."

Sinead and Laurie's relationship is fiery, to say the least! However, Steph has nothing but praise for her screen hubby.

"Kyle's a new person for me to work with, and he's been absolutely amazing," she grins. "I'm so glad he's my on-screen husband, because he cares so much about the character – he gives it 110 per cent, even when the camera's not on him. Not everyone does that. It's been a big change for him too, moving from the other side of the world [Kyle was previously living in Sydney, starring as Home and Away's Hunky Dr Nate]. He's recently rocked up here and been landed with me, although he's taken everything in his stride. He's an absolute dream to work with."

Steph's also thrilled to be back working with her old friends on the show again, including Kieron Richardson (Ste), Alex Fletcher (Diane) and Nick Pickard (Tony).

Sinead keeps finding herself drawn back to Sami!

"We've always stayed in touch," she grins. "We're all dead close in real life. Me and Kieron have a similar kind of relationship off screen to the one that we have on screen – and we're closer now than we've ever been. I'm very lucky with everyone I work with, as they're a great bunch."

"Coming back to Hollyoaks was like riding a bike – as soon as I stepped back on set, I felt dead calm," she continues. "I do think the writers are having a laugh with some of the things that they've been doing with Sinead, though. Sometimes I read the scripts and think, 'Is this the character? Or is this just me?!"'

Sarah Ellis

Mummy's BOY!

Steph's biggest role is playing mum to her little boy Caben...

Coming back to Hollyoaks has been a challenge for single mum Steph, whose son Caben turns two in January. And she says the only way she's been able to make it work is with the help of her own mother...

"I'm in a routine now, but it's been hard," she admits. "I put Caben in nursery three days a week, while I'm at work. My mum has been a huge help, though – she has him on the days he's not in nursery. I wouldn't have been able to do it without her."

And Steph tells us that Caben is getting used to her being on TV...

"He watched Hollyoaks last night – he pointed to the screen and said, 'Mumma?!" she shares. "He looked really confused. Then the scenes with Sami came on and I was like, 'Right, time to go to bed now!'"

"When you were frightened, you needed me!"

Our Christmas cracker

Desperate to be loved, Louise Appleton fell for a real wrong'un when she responded to the 'charms' of sleazy Ray Mullan – con artist and sometime trafficker of illegal immigrants. And after Louise attracted the attentions of a stalker, Ray was there to comfort her...

Festive fireworks Louise was ready to leave the country with Ray, but was stopped in her tracks when she left a message for the tormentor who had plagued her for months, and Ray's phone rang! They fought, she hit him with a vase, and he fell down the stairs and died.

Not just for Christmas

Louise was helped to cover up the murder by her friend Terry Woods, and (rarely for soap) she got away with it! Louise now lives in Australia – but she did recently donate money to Sarah Sugden's healthcare.

CORRIE 1998

Our Christmas cracker Sally fell for the charms of smooth would-be business tycoon Greg Kelly. But really, all Greg wanted was the cash Sally had been left in her mum's will.

Festive fireworks Greg went head-to-head with Underworld boss Mike Baldwin. But Greg was no Mike, and as his plans unravelled and he blew all of Sally's money, he became resentful and violent. Finally, on New Year's Eve, he brutally attacked sobbing Sally.

Not just for Christmas Our Sal gave Greg a firm knee to his Brussels sprouts and escaped. We wish we could say that Sally never again fell for a cunning con man...

Eye when he proposed. "I love ya," he told Dot. "I don't think you're half-bad neither," she replied. Dot was scared of having her heart broken again – but deep down, knew she had found a prince in Jim.

Not just for Christmas Dot and Jim had a mostly happy marriage – by Walford standards – but after Jim suffered a stroke, things became tougher as he went in and out of a care home. Jim died in 2015, but remains the love of Dot's life.

EASTENDERS 2011

37 "I don't want to die... I'm scared..."

Our Christmas cracker Star Pam St Clement decided to put away Pat's earrings after 25 years in Walford. Sadly, the writers plotted a tragic end for the character, when she was told she had advanced and aggressive cancer.

Festive fireworks Pat was suddenly confined to bed, as family and friends came to pay their final respects. She made peace with wicked stepdaughter Janine, while errant son David made it home just in time to tell Pat that he loved her, and that he was sorry for everything he had done.

Not just for Christmas We saw Pat one more time, in full war-paint, as she appeared to Peggy in a hallucination in 2016. As ailing Peggy prepared to take her own life, ghost Pat promised to stay with Peggy forever...

36 “Thanks for dreaming about us, ya pervert”

EMMERDALE 2017

Our Christmas cracker In a special episode, Emmerdale mashed together A Christmas Carol with Groundhog Day, to help teach Robert Sugden the error of his ways.

Festive fireworks In reality, Robert was fighting for his life after having been hit by a car. Meanwhile, we were granted access to his feverish dreams, where he woke up to different versions of his life. The highlight was when he found the late Val Pollard perched on her own grave. “Why are you here?” wondered Robert. “Maybe you always had a little thing for me,” reckoned Val. “I notice that you got a lot gayer after I died.”

Not just for Christmas Robert survived, and did indeed change his behaviour for the better. Robron fans have a lot to thank Val for!

35 “I might have known you'd have tried to put a spoke in it!”

Our Christmas cracker

After divorcing Peter, Leanne decided that she still loved Nick, and so the pair chose to marry – for the second time – at Christmas. However, Leanne realised it really was Peter she preferred, and offered him first refusal. Unfortunately, someone else heard...

Festive fireworks It was a beautiful wintery wedding on Christmas Day – only spoiled by Leanne’s spiteful sister Eva standing up at the “Does anyone have just cause or impediment...?” bit to tell Nick that he was very much second best.

Not just for Christmas

Oh, this story never ends! Leanne and Nick did marry again the following year, but then split up. However, they are currently very much in each other’s orbit once more. We give it three months!

34 “Your dad... He thinks you’re in there...”

EASTENDERS 2011

Our Christmas cracker

Zainab Masood was horrified when the father of her son Tamwar’s girlfriend turned out to be her abusive first husband, Yusef Khan. As the months passed, Yusef inveigled himself back into Zainab’s life.

Festive fireworks After the scales fell from Zainab’s eyes, she tried to escape

Yusef’s clutches. In retaliation, Yusef set fire to the B&B, with Masood, Denise and Phil caught in the raging inferno. As a rescue attempt was made, Zainab lied to Yusef that Afia was trapped inside – causing the villain to run into the flames.

Not just for Christmas

Yusef died as the B&B collapsed. Everyone else survived, but poor Tamwar was left with terrible scars.

CORONATION STREET 1999

33

“What have you come back for?”

Our Christmas cracker

Loveable Raquel Watts walked out on her doting husband Curly in 1996, heading off to Kuala Lumpur. Curly never recovered, so he was stunned when she turned up on New Year's Eve 1999.

Festive fireworks Raquel had come back to deliver shock news – they had a daughter, Alice. After requesting a divorce, and a moving heart-to heart, Raquel left the Street again, and this time for good.

Not just for Christmas

Raquel star Sarah Lancashire was one of Corrie's best-loved actors, and the show was delighted to have her back for one night only for the Street's first 'two-hander' episode.

32 “Help him! It’s Max, he’s dying!”

HOLLYOAKS 2006

Our Christmas cracker

There was only one thing money-hungry Clare wanted for Christmas in 2006 – her hubby Max's life insurance! And she was determined that he wasn't going to live to see in the new year...

Festive fireworks

Max had recently suffered a heart attack, so his wicked wife began tampering with his medication to weaken him further. Then, during a festive getaway at a lakeside cabin, she tricked Max into diving into a lake! Luckily, Max's best pal OB had followed them, and was on hand to pull Max from the lake and give him the kiss of life.

Not just for

Christmas Max was eventually killed by Niall Rafferty, just hours after marrying second wife Steph. And Clare met a similar fate when Mercedes pushed her in front of a car!

31 “I wouldn’t lie to you about something like that!”

EASTENDERS 1999

Our Christmas cracker

Ian Beale was desperately, stupidly and recklessly in love with his fiancée Mel Healy. So much so that he was happy to forgive her for sleeping with Steve Owen. But when he feared he was about to lose her forever, he told a terrible lie. He said that his daughter Lucy had cancer, and very little time left...

Festive fireworks Mel was press-ganged into marriage – a double wedding with idiot Barry Evans and Natalie Price – but a letter giving Lucy the all-clear soon appeared. As Walford counted down to the year 2000, fireworks lit up the sky. “But I love you!” Ian wailed to his new wife. “Well, guess what,

Ian?” spat Mel. “I don’t love you – and I never have done!”

Not just for Christmas

Two decades later, Ian is still sniffing around Mel like a dog on heat. And to say things didn't work out for poor Lucy would be something of an understatement.

SARAH MOYLE

Doctors' Valerie Pitman
...faces your questions!

The Mill's receptionist Valerie is rarely short of something to say – and star Sarah, who plays her, has plenty to talk about as she tackles your questions...

“You look very different from Valerie in real life – do you get recognised a lot?”

I didn't get recognised much when I had the dark bob, yet since I've let my hair go grey I get noticed more. Everyone is one hundred per cent lovely, though. I know that some people can be quite mean about Valerie online, as they find her irritating – but people in the real world are really sweet.

“Do people recognise you a lot?”

“You starred in Emmerdale as Laurel's sister Caroline – would you like to one day make a return to the Dales?”

I loved that job. Me and Charlotte Bellamy, who plays Laurel, were at college together. A while ago I saw the funeral of Laurel and Caroline's mum on telly and thought, ‘Why am I not there?! There was an eight-year gap between my first appearance as Caroline and the next – I couldn't remember what accent I did for her! But I'd love to go back, as Caroline is so different from Valerie.

“You've been in lots of musicals – which is your favourite?”

I guess I'll always have a soft spot for Les Misérables, which I did early in my career. It was where I met my other half! I also did My Fair Lady in the West End, and adored every minute. The one I'd kill to do, though, is Guys And Dolls. It's my favourite musical of all time and I'd love to play Miss Adelaide – but I may be too old for that now...

Les is more: The star appeared in several musicals

“If you could pick anyone for a Doctors guest slot, who would you choose?”

It would definitely be Julie Walters! Do you think that she would do it? Shall I write her a letter? I'd like her to play a long-lost relative of Valerie's, as she doesn't have any family...

“Who's the most memorable co-star from your career?”

Sean Penn is the most gigantic A-list star I've ever worked with – and he's an amazing actor. I'm in a film called The Gunman with him, for all of about 30 seconds – and in that time his character punches me in the head. I was playing the most unlikely assassin you could imagine!

Bob's your uncle: Sarah was spotted a lot less when she had this hairstyle

Break the cycle: Sarah's huge bike ride was for a good cause

"You recently mountain biked across Rwanda in aid of Hope And Homes For Children – how was it, and would you do it again?"

I did a year of saying yes to everything, and the chance popped up through the charity. It does amazing work, shutting down inadequate orphanages and rehousing children. I trained hard, but nothing could have prepared me for what we had to do in Rwanda! I'd do it again in a heartbeat, though – it was incredible. Rwanda is beautiful, and we saw the great work the charity is doing. Plus, I was knocked out by how generous people were in sponsoring me. I doubled my initial target, and now I'm over that. The page is still open, and it'd be amazing if people donated. I'd like to do a new challenge soon – maybe climbing Kilimanjaro...

"Where's your absolute favourite place in the world?"

I've had a long-term love affair with New York since I was 21. I had a boyfriend there for three-and-a-half years, then I was lucky enough to work on Broadway for six months, in the play Jerusalem. It was the best six months of my life! New York is my happy place, and I try to go there as often as possible.

"How does Valerie compare with your own GP's receptionist?"

Funny you should say that, I was there this week. The staff are a lot younger and more beautiful than me, but I did notice that they were all

Wood you believe it?: Late comic Victoria is an idol of Sarah's

Through The Mill: Receptionist Val has had many ups and downs

"Who else in Doctors would you play for the day?"

having a little gossip behind reception – just like Valerie would!

"What's your best memory of playing Kimberley in Extras?"

Firstly, I didn't anticipate how happy [series creator and co-star] Ricky Gervais would be about us improvising – we laughed a lot. I was thrilled that our improvisations were in the scripts they published a few years afterwards. The other big memory is that Ricky liked to finish work at 4pm, so we were out early every day!

"Is it true you once enjoyed a night out with Prince Edward?"

...asks reader Rita Lindell from Lincoln

In my ancient history! I was in the National Youth Theatre, which Prince Edward was a patron of. I was asked to partner him at a fund-raising ball, and was terrified. But he was utterly charming, and very funny. I was chatting away, and realised my dad was behind a pillar with his camera. I said, "I'm so sorry, that's my dad..." – and without missing a beat he replied, "Shall I have him taken to the Tower?" He was really lovely.

"Which comics do you admire?"

My all-time hero, and probably the reason I'm playing a comedy character now, is Victoria Wood. She was someone I grew up with, and was most trying to mimic. I never met her, but a brilliant ex-boyfriend surprised me with tickets to see her at the Albert Hall, which was one of the best presents I've ever had.

"Which other Doctors character would you like to play for the day?"

It'd have to be Dr Al – I like how he doesn't care, and drinks a lot. And Valerie being a doctor would be nice. She'd spend more time talking to patients about her own problems, though!

10 totally true FACTS about...

Samia Longchambon

YOUR InsideSoap BRIEFING ON THE WOMAN BEHIND CORRIE'S MARIA...

1 Samia Longchambon was born as Samia Maxine Ghadie in Eccles, Greater Manchester on 13

July 1982. Her parents are Joseph, a French-Lebanese shop owner, and Patsy, an actress. The two met while Joseph was working out in Abu Dhabi, and Samia and her older brother spent some of their childhood there. Later, Samia began receiving drama lessons from the age of six – and made her mark in the acting world at the tender age of just eight.

3 In May 2000, Samia joined Coronation Street as Maria Sutherland. She beat both Hear'Say's Suzanne Shaw and Girls Aloud singer Kimberley Walsh to the role – and her first few scenes consisted of her working in the kennels with her brother, Kirk. Maria has had an on-off relationship with Tyrone, and been married twice – once to Liam Connor and then to gay man Pablo Duarte.

One of Maria's most memorable storylines was in 2008, when her baby, Paul Connor Jr, was tragically stillborn. More recently, Maria ruined Eva and Aidan's wedding in 2017 after she foiled the bride-to-be's fake pregnancy!

2 Samia's first credited acting appearance was in an episode of crime drama Cracker in 1994. And in 1995, she had a small role in Children's Ward as Charlotte, where Samia first met her Coronation Street co-star, Alan Halsall (Tyrone Dobbs). She also played minor parts in shows Heartbeat and Doctors.

4 After a short engagement, Samia married Matt Smith, a property developer, in September 2005. In 2009, she gave birth to their daughter, Freya – but in January 2011, she and Matt announced their separation. For a brief spell, Samia also dated her co-star Will Thorp (Chris Gray), after he joined the cast of Coronation Street – however, the pair split in 2012.

5 In 2013, Samia joined Dancing on Ice for series eight of the show, where she was partnered with Sylvain Longchambon. The two were popular, but were eliminated in fourth place after she lost in the skate-off to Luke Campbell. Beth Tweddle went on to win the series. Samia's on-screen brother Andy Whyment (Kirk), competed on the show the year before and was eliminated in fifth place – so Samia reigns supreme!

6 After their stint on Dancing on Ice, Samia and Sylvain began a relationship.

Sylvain had previously been dating Jennifer Metcalfe (Hollyoaks' Mercedes) when they were paired together on the ITV show. Sylvain and Samia married in August 2016 and have a son, Yves Joseph Longchambon, born in 2015. Yves' first name is in tribute to Sylvain's brother, and his middle name was chosen out of respect for Samia's father who died in 2009.

7 Sylvain and Samia had a lavish wedding at Delamere Manor in Cheshire. A few of her fellow Corrie actors attended the celebration, including Jane Danson (Leanne) and Tina O'Brien (Sarah). Maria's daughter, Freya, was the chief flower girl. "I didn't want her to give me away, as she's never going to have to give me away in life – so she walked me down the aisle," reveals Samia. "I wanted Freya to feel very involved in the wedding, which she was. She was really looking forward to that."

8 During Mental Health Awareness Month in May 2018, Samia opened up about her personal difficulties.

Samia revealed that she has struggled with anxiety since she was 11 years old – and has experienced panic attacks. "Anxiety isn't something that goes away – it's something you learn to control," she said. Samia has also expressed her interest in reflexologies and holistic therapies that have helped her in the past. She has recently taken up a course to learn reflexology herself.

9 In 2017, Samia confessed on This Morning that she wanted a different man for Maria.

"I'm campaigning for Maria and David to get together because I think they should just crack on," grinned Samia, although she admitted that she'd find it weird to kiss Jack P Shepherd seeing as they've "literally grown up together". They joined Coronation Street together in 2000, when Samia was 17 and Jack was only 11!

10 Samia claims that she gets hassled on Twitter for Maria's hairdressing skills.

"I often get tweets from people telling me that Maria is a rubbish hairdresser," she laughs. She also says that she shouldn't be allowed to have real scissors on set. "I almost cut off Kate Ford's [Tracy] fringe once – and there was another time when I nearly took off Barbara Knox's [Rita] head!"

RUTH WILSON PLAYS HER OWN GRANDMOTHER
IN A STORY OF SECRETS AND BETRAYAL...

MRS WILSON | BBC1 TUESDAY

THE WIFE'S TALE

RUTH WILSON REVEALS WHY SHE WANTED TO PORTRAY HER GRAN IN THIS GRIPPING NEW DRAMA...

Smart Alec:
An incredible man
leading a double life

Truth is stranger than fiction, so they say, and Luther star Ruth Wilson has a story in her family that's as shocking and gripping as anything you might witness in Walford or Weatherfield. When Ruth's grandfather Alec – a writer, spy and Secret Service officer – died, her grandmother Alison discovered he had another wife and family that she knew nothing about. And it's that revelation which forms the centre of this three-part drama, as Alison searches for the truth about the man she thought she married...

"She wrote a memoir in two parts," explains Ruth, who plays her own grandmother in the drama. "The first part, which she let us read about 20 years ago now, was called Before – that dealt with her growing up, meeting Alec and finding out about his betrayal. The second part, After, we couldn't read until she died – that was about 10 years ago now, and it was all about her relationship with God. It was amazing, beautifully written, and very emotional and personal – I never even knew that she was a writer.

"Certainly in the memoir, she does suggest she knew things, or questioned things that she never quite knew," continues Ruth. "She was always on shifting sands about whether what he was saying was true or not, and I think when she eventually found out he was definitely married to someone else and their marriage wasn't legitimate, everything she'd doubted came to the fore. But I think she lived with doubts about him for her whole life."

Ruth's family had been suggesting that Alison's story would make fertile material for a TV drama for many years, but when the time finally came to turn those suggestions into reality, Ruth felt under a lot of pressure to present a fair interpretation of what happened all those years ago.

"I've been very conscious of keeping them all happy, and it's been really hard because obviously some of them feature in it," she shares.

"We've asked them and kept them informed. Dennis [one of Alec's sons by his first wife] doesn't want his father to be portrayed as a bad man. He's complicated, but he was an incredible father – they all have amazing memories of him and they're all brilliant people."

And, of course, playing the role of her grandmother carries its own separate level of stress, which Ruth admits hasn't always sat very easily with her...

"I've found it really hard, for many reasons," she reveals. "It's personally very close, and it's also a very disempowered role. Weirdly, the scenes that are set in the 40s and the bit where Alison finds God, those parts were fine. They were clear to me – they were straightforward. Then the middle section, which is the

“EVERYTHING ALISON DOUBTED ABOUT ALEC CAME TO THE FORE”

Spies like us: The Intelligence department is headed by the formidable Coleman majority of it, is about her being smacked this way and that, trying to hold on to some form of understanding of who she is while being constantly overloaded with more bad information. So I've found that really hard to play. It's been emotional and sad.

"Sometimes I wish someone else had played it, then I'd be able to have a bit of distance, but I sort of felt like I had to play her. But, yeah, it's been tough – I'm exhausted!"

Joe Lycett and Alison Hammond pick their dream viewing...

Taskmaster

Joe I've been watching quite a bit of TV recently. I've been catching up on stuff, so I've done Bodyguard – I loved that. And I'm really enjoying Alex Horne's game show on BBC1, The Button – as well as Taskmaster, obviously!

Alison I watched Bodyguard, too, I thought that was great. And I watched The Circle, which was hilarious.

The first episode was a bit rubbish, to be fair, but it got so much better as it went along!

Joe And also, because you're Inside Soap, I'm really enjoying Emmerdale, Coronation Street and EastEnders...

Alison I'm also watching Underground on Netflix, which is about slavery, but it's really glossy – when I say that, I mean it's well-made – and I'm just loving it. And the crime drama Power – that's a really good show as well.

Joe I like a gritty drama, too, so I've been redoing The Sopranos, and I've really loved Succession. That's very good because none of the characters are likeable at all, but it's so brilliant as a result. It's really good fun.

Alison I'd really love to do Strictly Come Dancing again.

Joe And I'd love to do Taskmaster again! But you can only do one series.

Alison Can I do it?

Joe You could, and you'd be brilliant.

Alison You'd be amazing on Strictly.

Joe I wouldn't, I think I'd embarrass myself. I'd take it too seriously, and I'm not known for elegance.

Alison I think you need to be really good or really bad. You don't want to be an in-betweener, like I was!

THIS IS THE SORT OF SHOW that makes us thank our lucky stars for iPlayer, because one viewing is never quite enough – there are so many characters with motivations that aren't always immediately clear that we find we need at least two viewings of each episode to keep on top of the

JAMIE DORNAN, ANN SKELLY AND MATTHEW RHYS STAR IN A STORY OF LOVE AND BETRAYAL...

In the Irish county of Fermanagh in 1885, Beth Winters (Ann Skelly) has a plan for her 23rd birthday – to leave the home she shares with her oppressive stepfather Billy (Matthew Rhys) and run away with the mysterious Liam Ward (Jamie Dornan). This three-part drama covers a single 24-hour period as the fateful hour approaches – but will Beth go through with her idea? Inside TV joined the cast on set to find out more...

So why does Beth want to get away from her home?

Ann She's not had things easy, and she's hoping for a better life in the form of Liam. It's an opportunity to get out of her current circumstances – see what else there is to life, I guess. She's independent and very smart – I think she rises above a lot of the limitations of the time. You get to see her strength and courage, which I have huge admiration for.

What are Billy and Liam like?

Matthew Billy's a staunch and proud Protestant and landowner in Fermanagh, who has raised Elizabeth as his own. He's incredibly complex, and he's battling a number of conflicting feelings that sometimes raise their ugly heads. But he's a fair man. I think throughout the piece he's very level-headed and doesn't really let religion or politics cloud his judgement. Jamie Liam appealed to me in that there's a mystery to him. I think it's interesting playing characters where you don't instantly have an understanding of who they are and what their intentions are. He's the person who comes in and turns Beth's world around, and he's the catalyst for every dramatic event within the story.

Matthew, how did you find the Fermanagh accent?

Matthew It's one of those accents that, at times, is like a beautiful steak to get your teeth into, and at other times is incredibly hard and gristly! It's a great challenge, but sometimes, when you're tired,

SPECIAL DELIVERY

KAYODE EWUMI TELLS US ABOUT HIS NEW COMEDY OF TWO FRIENDS HOPING TO MAKE BIG BUSINESS...

Pals Kazim and Jeremiah have a dream – to take their fledgling delivery service, Speedi-Kazz, and turn it into a multimillion-pound business. They've managed to be invited to pitch for a £20,000 investment – so are they on their way? In this four-part comedy, which drops on BBC3 as a box set this Thursday, we'll follow the duo on the road to somewhere hopefully resembling success...

"They want to be somebody, but both face struggles in order to make it," explains Kayode Ewumi, who wrote the series and plays Kazim. "But I think it's good to see hope in shows. You always see Elephant and Castle or the Aylesbury Estate as such dark places on TV, you don't know what you're meant to sound like!

The series is set on Beth's birthday, but will we discover how they got to this point?

Ann Yes, there are certain flashbacks to give context to her relationship with Liam, and with her mother when she was younger, and the relationship between her mother and Billy. It'll be very satisfying, I think!

someone's always being chased! So it's nice to show it with hope and brightness."

Kayode tells us he drew inspiration from the ambition he saw in his own friends growing up, and he hopes viewers will root for Kazim and Jeremiah to do well.

"They're young, they're hopeful, they're bright and they're handsome, if I say so myself!" he chuckles. "And I think because they're two black boys, in a time and an area where there are so many stereotypes put on race, the fact they're doing something positive – and trying to do it in the right way – I hope will resonate with people."

CHILD'S PLAY

DR GUDDI SINGH SEES LIFE THROUGH THE EYES OF A CHILD IN A NEW FACTUAL SERIES...

Speak to any parent and they'll have lots of questions about what goes on in the minds of babies – questions which, for obvious reasons, babies aren't able to answer themselves. But in this new series, top child-development experts have brought together dozens of families for a new research project that hopes to make some fascinating discoveries.

"As an individual clinician and practitioner, I was astounded by some of the insights we were able to get by virtue of the technology," reveals paediatrician Dr Guddi Singh, who presents the series. "One is the 'tantrum suit' – effectively it's a way of gathering all of this physiological information about what happens in a toddler's body when they go through the process of having a tantrum."

Although she has many years of working with children under her belt, Guddi tells us that being surrounded by 200 of them in a TV studio was a whole new experience...

"I lost count of the number of times that I cracked up on set because of the babies," she laughs. "One of the most memorable was when I was doing a piece to camera holding a baby, and I kept fluffing my lines. Then in the middle of what I thought was going to be the winning take, this baby vomited all over me, so I had to get changed and do it again!"

DON'T Miss!

Happy Eva after

Presenter Suzy Klein treads two waters – the seemingly disparate musical theatre and Argentine landscape – to dive into the story behind one of the West End's most celebrated characters. No, it's not Mr Mistoffelees from Cats (much as we love that sequinned jumpsuit), but rather Tim Rice and Andrew Lloyd Webber's musical Evita. But what of the real Eva María Duarte de Perón?

Stars including Elaine Paige, US theatre producer Hal Prince and Sir Tim himself reveal how the show was inspired by a face on a stamp (does that mean an all-singing, all-dancing show about QEII is on the cards, then?), before we move on to Argentina, meeting politicians and Eva superfans to find out what makes her such an icon.

Going to the country

The Grade I-listed Cliveden House in Berkshire is the country house hotel of choice for the wealthy and/or famous, and boasts a history of scandals that would make Downton Abbey blush and look the other way. We might not be able to afford an overnight stay, but in this new four-part series, we can at least get a good look at what goes on behind the scenes.

We join the team in May as they're gearing up for peak wedding season, so things are rather hectic – and are quickly made more so by news of a soon-to-arrive VIP guest whose identity they don't yet know (hint: her name rhymes with Fleghan Flarkle). Also, business development manager James has invited some social media influencers to stay...

DOCTOR WHO | BBC1 6.30PM

The TARDIS deposits the Doctor and her companions in 17th-century Lancashire tonight, and there's surely nothing terrifying happening there. No, just a witch trial run by the local landowner, which the Doctor ends up right in the middle of. Fear and distrust are rife in the vicinity of Bilehurst Cragg – but could there be something even more sinister behind all of this? No previews were available at the time of writing this, but we're pretty hot on the answer to that question being 'yes'. Tonight's special guest stars come in the form of Siobhan Finneran and Alan Cumming, so we're sold already.

JAZZOLOGY WITH SOWETO KINCH | BBC4 8PM

Acclaimed jazz saxophonist Soweto Kinch hosts this documentary that goes deep into the history of a 100-year-old art form with deep roots in African-American culture. It's a journey that takes him through London, New York and New Orleans, and brings him into contact with modern jazz greats such as Esperanza Spalding. He'll also find out how the next wave of jazz stars is refreshing the genre.

S.W.A.T | Sky One 9PM

Just two episodes to go until the first season finale – but whether Hondo and Deacon will get that far seems up for debate tonight, as the pair get ambushed by mercenaries in the woods. They should survive – if they can work together...

CHICAGO MED | Universal 9PM

Will and Natalie suspect that a patient in their care is being subjected to abuse, but are concerned about how best to handle it when they learn she is in the country illegally. Connor, meanwhile, blows his top at Dr Lanik's treatment of Terry.

WARSHIP: LIFE AT SEA | Channel 5 9PM

miss!

Making waves

Fancy a trip to the Black Sea, anyone? In this new four-part series, the cameras join the 280-strong crew of the Royal Navy destroyer HMS Duncan on a seven-month deployment with that as their destination – a bit of a tricky one, since it will likely bring the ship in close contact with Russian forces, and it's not clear how they will respond to this new arrival.

It'll take some time to get there, though, and on the way we can get to know the crew on this voyage, including 18-year-old Owen who, as both the youngest and newest recruit, is lumbered with one of the worst beds and some of the least desirable jobs. Captain Eleanor Stark, meanwhile, guides us through the challenge of refuelling while on the move.

DON'T
miss!

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE MENOPAUSE | BBC1 9PM

Around 13 million women in the UK are currently affected by the menopause, and yet there's still a huge culture of silence around it – many women are embarrassed or ashamed to discuss it with their friends or even their partner. In this film, Mariella Frostrup argues in favour of dismantling the stigma around menopause in the hope that it will allow women to make better, more informed decisions about their health. Mariella will be investigating the truth behind the headline scares of HRT being linked to breast cancer, and meets scientists who are working on a cure for hot flushes...

HOW TO SPEND IT WELL AT CHRISTMAS WITH PHILLIP SCHOFIELD | ITV 8PM

Games for a laugh

We have a feeling that they weren't sure how to cut down the title of this show, so just went with all the info in one hit. Still, we never object to seeing Schofe on our screens, and here he guides us through the abundance of gifts vying for your Chrimbo cash, reviewing and rating them with the help of some famous faces and their families. In this first of three episodes, Corrie's Simon Gregson (Steve) tests out new board games, while football legend Chris Kamara tackles electric ride-on toys, with the help of a few diddy drivers.

For Phil's part, he takes on Segway's high-tech skates, and finds out which toys are the worst to clear up after the kids have tipped them all over the carpet. (Answer: ALL of them.)

OUR YORKSHIRE FARM | Channel 5 8PM

This new four-part series follows hill shepherds Amanda and Clive Owen (not the Sin City actor having ditched his movie career à la Daniel Day-Lewis becoming a cobbler in Italy for a bit. Anyway, we digress). The couple and their nine – nine! – children face the harshest of winters on their farm on the Yorkshire moors, when the dreaded Beast from the East sweeps through their flock of more than 1,000 sheep. That's almost as many as their offspring. And when the snow isolates the family for Christmas, they're forced to be resourceful to make the big day go off with a bang...

SALUTING DAD'S ARMY | Gold 8PM

We've reached the final episode of Alexander Armstrong's tribute to the enduringly popular wartime sitcom, and we're hoping that this one holds the answer to that eternal conundrum: who, in fact, did Mr Hitler think he was kidding? This episode explores the life of Dad's Army beyond British TV, including a rare glimpse of the pilot for a proposed American adaptation...

ARROW | Sky One 8PM

The ever so evocatively-named Slabside Penitentiary becomes an even more dangerous place to be tonight, when one of the guards is murdered – and just about everyone is a suspect. Meanwhile, Laurel makes new inroads as District Attorney.

Bravo team reaches out across the border tonight to collaborate with the Mexican Marines in pursuit of the head of a lethal drug cartel. It's not all work, though, as they also make time for a little drunken golf in honour of a lost friend.

Talking shop

When the candidates jump into their numerous taxis and head off to the BBC's former HQ in Shepherd's Bush this week, it can mean only one thing... The return of the live TV selling task! Cringe! Assigned with trading on a leading shopping channel, and with just 10 hours until they go live, those picked to be provisional presenters need to learn to show some personality (good luck with that, then, eh?) to shift enough of the products that each team has chosen specifically for the task.

We can only hope that they heed the advice of the experts in order to avoid an awkward Alan Partridge-style scenario – eg “Dead air is a crime”. We dare say Lord Sugar will consider the teams’ efforts to be a bleedin’ disaster...

VIC & BOB'S BIG NIGHT OUT | BBC4 10PM

Vic and Bob just wouldn't let it lie, would they? Big Night Out returns for more silliness tonight, in which Vic shows us his so-called circus skills, while Bob confesses all to a vicar who might be hiding a secret of his own... And if you can hark back to the original shows circa 1990, you'll be particularly tickled that Graham Lister is back with his 'quality entertainment' in Novelty Island, too.

GREY'S ANATOMY | Sky Witness 9PM

The team think of their loved ones lost when the family of a patient of Meredith's celebrates the Day Of The Dead. Teddy attempts to tell Owen that she's pregnant, but to no avail, while Jo encourages Link to pursue one of the doctors...

DIGGING FOR BRITAIN 2018 | BBC4 9PM

Professor Alice Roberts finds yet more hidden secrets from British history. This episode heads north, where a search for a missing WWII Spitfire is underway, and a cemetery unearths some Anglo-Saxon bling Mr T would be proud of.

Overnight success

We try not to brag about our glamorous lives too much but, as it happens, Inside TV has some degree of familiarity with the Corinthia, the posh London hotel at the centre of this two-part documentary. On occasion we have trotted along there with our notepads and our dictaphones to interview the stars off the telly – and then rushed straight back to the office before anyone noticed how out of place we looked.

Anyway, if Channel 4's A Very British Country House on Sunday didn't completely satiate your desire for the inside track on what's required to take care of A-list guests – some of whom may have dropped up to £3million for their stay – then tune in tonight to meet the staff who make it all possible.

KIDDING | Sky Atlantic 10.40PM

Jim Carrey! On the telly! And under the directorial eye of Michel Gondry, he bring us the story of fictional children's entertainer (albeit with bells ringing of some real-life ones) Mr Pickles. He's an American icon, a beacon of wisdom to young minds, and the core of a vast branding empire. But when tragedy strikes and his life implodes, he finds that there's no magic around to guide him through this ordeal. Cheeky bonus – if you find that you love it, you can enjoy the second episode straight after this one.

BERLIN STATION | More4 9PM

Desperate for his promotion, Steven rushes to complete a risky operation – putting Clare's life on the line in the process. Hector attempts to intervene, but is foiled by a development that makes things go from bad to worse...

VIKINGS | Amazon Prime Video

Back from a mid-season break, Vikings sees Ivar the Boneless asserting his authority over the army – despite protests from his brothers. And devastated Floki takes to the high seas in a one-man boat, leaving his life in the lap of the gods...

So far, Solent

It's good to see that Michael and John's good-natured one-upmanship (with emphasis on the 'ship') is showing little sign of slowing in this second episode, even if the pair themselves might not be able to back up their talk at the crucial point of action.

Asked by professional sailor Mungo to prepare the sails for the next leg of their journey from Portsmouth to Poole, the ensuing comedy of errors results in them missing the morning tide, so they're left with time to kill on dry land in Portsmouth. Luckily, there's a chance to meet powerboat sailor Alan Priddy and talk about his latest record attempt.

STEVIE WONDER: A MUSICAL HISTORY | BBC4 10PM

Having sold more than 100 million records to date – not to mention all the ones that he's penned, produced and arranged for others – Stevie Wonder is nothing short of a musical genius. This show celebrates the 68-year-old and some of his best-loved tunes. Signed, sealed and delivered words of admiration come from Alexander O'Neal, Corinne Bailey Rae and Trevor Nelson, to name but a few.

THE DETAIL | 5USA 9PM

The Canadian remake of Scott & Bailey (yes, really!) continues as an aspiring hockey player is accused of rape and murder, and fitness tracker data picks holes in his character witness' story. Jack and Stevie soon find more abuse within the team...

THE BROKENWOOD MYSTERIES | Drama 8PM

... and if that wasn't enough to put you off sport for life, a professional tennis player is found dead, floating in her wedding dress. But this is no tragic drowning – Gina reveals the woman was actually dead before she entered the river.

IN and OUT

We spin soap's revolving door...

MELISSA JOHNS

(Imogen Pascoe, Corrie)

IN Melissa is back on the cobbles, reprising her role as Kate's ex-girlfriend Imogen, after her initial brief stint last year. You may remember that Kate and Imogen started dating back in September 2017, but Kate's burgeoning feelings for Rana meant that the romance was short-lived. Imogen will make her comeback at Christmas, as she meets up with Rana. The pair have been spotted filming in Manchester – so what might it mean for Kate and Rana's relationship? December

AMY LENNOX

(Chloe Godard, Holby City)

IN Amy will star as Chloe, a doctor at a neighbouring hospital, who arrives to help her mother Ange – played by Dawn Steele – with a tricky patient. Scots-born Amy is currently best known for lead roles in West End musicals such as Legally Blonde and Kinky Boots, but she has also appeared in crime drama Shetland, and has even popped up in Holby's sister show Casualty back in 2017. Next year

MALIQUE THOMPSON-DWYER

(Prince McQueen, Hollyoaks)

OUT Malique is taking a short break from Hollyoaks while he's being kept busy in the jungle for the current series of ITV's I'm A Celebrity... Get Me Out Of Here!. "I have been quite full-on with filming on Hollyoaks recently, so it's going to be nice to have a little break – but obviously a very different kind of break!" the star commented before heading on his adventure Down Under. "I am taking some time out to do this, but when I have finished, I will be back. It's nice to go on I'm A Celebrity... as me, rather than as my character, Prince." Winter

THE EX FILES!

What are the one-time stars of soap up to now?

GARY & NATASHA SPLIT

Ex-Hollyoaks and former EastEnders star Gary Lucy has sadly separated from his wife of four years, Natasha Gray. In a statement, the couple said: "It is with great sadness that we announce the end of our marriage. This was a very difficult decision, but was reached mutually and amicably. No other parties are involved. Our priority is, as always, our children. We are still a family and will always be loving, dedicated parents."

A BABY FOR AMY

Meanwhile, Gary's former screen wife – in both Footballers' Wives and Hollyoaks – Susie Amy, has revealed that she's pregnant. The 37-year-old tweeted, "For the first time – maybe in my life – I can't wait for January!" Meanwhile, the actress, who split from rugby player Rob Kearney in 2012, is keeping mum on her current relationship status.

JAC'S MODELLING JOB

Jacqueline Jossa (aka Walford's Lauren Branning) is the new face of an underwear brand. Since giving birth to her second child in June, Jac has been keenly working out and eating healthily, and has now modelled loungewear and lingerie alongside TOWIE celebrity Sam Faiers for a new Boux Avenue campaign. "Two years ago, I would never have done something like this," admits Jac. "Now I feel great. It's not like I'm baring all – it's mostly loungewear and cute PJs."

Ideal for kids aged three and above, the show is on at the Lyric Theatre till 13 January 2019 – for tickets, log on to www.tallstories.org.uk/shows/

DVD

SKYSCRAPER

Ex-FBI agent Will Sawyer (Dwayne Johnson) is in Hong Kong when disaster strikes... The tallest and supposedly safest building is on fire and he's framed for it. While clearing his name, he must also save his family in the burning building. Will they survive?

BOOK

EVERY COLOUR OF YOU

by Amelia Mandeville
Zoe tries to make the most of every day, and then she meets Tristan. The rumour is that he fell apart when his dad died – but is he now back to 'normal'? The two bond, yet Zoe soon realises that she can't fix him...

STAR CHOICE

Hollyoaks' Kyle Pryor (Laurie)

"I'm into Peaky Blinders at the moment, as some of that is shot in Liverpool. Also, Cillian Murphy is a great actor, so he's always a pleasure to watch. I've just started The Haunting Of Hill House too, which is a very Halloween-themed show. It's quite addictive and scary."

HITS & MISSES!

WHAT'S HIT THE BULLSEYE RECENTLY – AND WHAT'S FALLEN WIDE OF THE MARK?

Emmerdale is going to properly sloooow-burn the Victoria-Matty romance, isn't it? 'Robron' style. But what do we call them? 'Mattoria'? Sounds like an island somewhere.

Peter is so gung-ho for Simon to join the Navy, it feels as if it's taking all his strength not to knock the boy over the head and set him adrift on the Manchester Ship Canal.

We always love to see Debbie doing her mechanic-ing in a flawless face of professional make-up.

Find a man who looks at you the way Jakey looks at his history teacher.

If baby Slater knew what a flaming bombsite of family she'd been born into, she'd ask if there's a lid for that box, and pull it shut from the inside.

Forget Hillman or Phelan... Hayley's mum Bev is truly the most evil creature soap has ever seen. More please. Much more!

When we first met Abi – as an out-of-control, drug addict mum – we'd never have guessed that she'd become one of our absolute favourites. But actress Sally Carman has helped create a character of such depth and likeability, Abi's name already deserves to be spoken in the same breath as the likes of Karen McDonald and Becky Granger. She's the next big thing!

Oh no! Sinead has made a plucky cancer friend, Steff. Poor Steff. Soap law dictates that... Well, let's just say that we won't get too attached.

What is it with frying pans and the old Fowler house?

CLICHÉ CORNER! Each issue, we'll call time on a worn-out phrase that needs to be banned from soap. This week: "Let's face it, I ain't never gonna win no Mother of the Year award!"

Given the change of man in her life, isn't it about time Tracy also changed the name of her shop? McDonald's Marigolds? Steve's Leaves?

Nobody 'broods darkly' quite like our Graham. We've seen depressed barn owls with a less hooded expression.

What are they filling their pasties with in Devon? This time two years ago, Nick was way too much of a square to be shamelessly fibbing to two women. When did he become so Peter Barlow?
